

BRIESS MALT & BREW WORKSHOP

Wednesday & Thursday, August 16-17, 2017

Briess Malt & Ingredients Co., Chilton, Wisconsin USA | 920.849.7711

Guest Speakers

Joseph D. Hertrich, Retired Group Director, Brewing Raw Materials, Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

Jace Marti, Assistant Brewmaster and head of August Schell Brewing Co. Sour Program

Briess Presenters

Dan Bies, Technical Services Rep/Pilot Brewer

Brian Brandt, Division Manager — West

Dan Burick, Division Manager – Brew Mountain

Bob Hansen, Technical Services Manager

Aaron Hyde, Division Manager — South

Mike Killelea, Division Manager-East

Ryan O'Toole, President and Chief Operating Officer

Penny Pickart, Division Manager-Central

Betsy Roberts, Quality Manager Malting

Mike Scanzello, Director of Brewing & Distilling

(Revised: April 3, 2017)

DESCRIPTION

Experience firsthand the art of handcrafting and brewing with specialty malts at Briess Malt & Ingredients Co. in Chilton, Wis. This two-day workshop features presentations by guest and Briess speakers with in depth tours of Briess malting/roasting operations and 500-bbl brewhouse/extract plant.

In a hands-on sensory class, attendees will sample Congress Worts to better learn the flavors and aromas of eight specific specialty malts, then sample finished beers made with each malt. Presentation topics include the Briess barley supply chain from grower to brewer, production and acquisition of malting barley, the art of handcrafting specialty malts in small batches, flavor and color contributions of specialty malts, understanding a malt analysis, production malt extract in a 500bbl brewhouse, and development new barley varieties for American Craft Beer.

Preregistration is required and limited to 45 participants currently working in a licensed commercial brewery or in a brewing-related capacity. Cost is $150.00 which includes meals. Transportation and lodging are not included. Request a registration form from info@brewingwithbriess.com or 920.849.7711.

