Briess extracts now available in 30-lb mini-pails

CHILTON, WI—Briess has announced the release of a new packaging option for its CBW® line of pure malt extracts. A big sister to the 3.3-pound canister and little sister to the 5-gallon pail, the 30-lb mini-pail offers features and benefits that homebrew retailers, homebrewers and commercial brewers alike will appreciate:

- Sturdy handle for carrying and pouring
- Easy-pour spout. Just spray with no-rinse sanitizer after pouring.
- Reusable
- Food-grade
- Dispense just the amount you want for creative brewing, small gravity adjustments, minor flavor or color adjustments, and yeast propagation.
- The entire bucket is just the right amount to nail your gravity every time:
 - +1.001 gravity points on a 33bbl system
 - +1.003 gravity points on a 10bbl system

The complete line of Briess CBW® liquid malt extracts are available in these packaging options. For more information contact Briess at info@brewingwithbriess.com.
